

Explore Downtown!

1 Please tell me you're hungry

Block 16 for dinner — trust me when I say this, their french fries are out this world.

2 You'll need something to wash down all that delicious goodness

Head over to La Buvette or Mercury to get the night started.

3 O-Mahalo!

Laka Lono Rum Club to share a drink at Omaha's very own tiki oasis. Definitely share one of the flaming drinks, and watch out for mermaids.

4 Dance your face (and all those calories)

The Max has multiple dance floors and music types for you to show off your moves. It's inclusive to all and a staple to Omaha's LGBTQ community.

5 From there, it's probably a good idea to grab something to eat to finish the night off right

Follow your nose and head to the food trucks in the Old Market. Many take debit cards, but bring cash just in case!

A very special thanks to our contributor: Andrew & Angie

Share Your Experience With Us!
@OmahaYP #Intro2omaha