CASS COUNTY, NE – The Cass County Nebraska Economic Development Council (CCNEDC) gathered at Round the Bend Steakhouse to reflect on an eventful 2025 and set a bold vision for 2026. Defining the past year through the pillars of Community Development, Collaboration, and Construction, the Council reported a high mark for community and business engagement as well as critical infrastructure advancements.

- Creative Growth: Partnering with the City of Plattsmouth to apply for a Creative District designation and growing collaboration with Main Street Businesses.
- Business Engagement: Meeting with employers representing over 11% of all Cass County employees and launching a new Main Street survey in Louisville and Weeping Water.
- Regional Planning: Leading a successful regional water/wastewater inventory in partnership with “6 Regions One Nebraska” to identify future development sites.
- Community Support: Completing a new Downtown Development Plan for the Village of Elmwood in collaboration with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Honoring Leadership and Excellence – The Council bid a grateful farewell to two long-standing board members, Mike Slattery (2001) and Joel Clements (2012), and ushered in a new organizational structure underpinned by an elected Board of Directors and supported by a Strategic Advisory Board.
